

Republican Ticket.

For Governor—JEREMIAH M. RUSK, of Vernon.
For Lieutenant Governor—SAM. S. FIFIELD, of Ashland.
For Secretary of State—ERNEST C. TIMME, of Kenosha.
For State Treasurer—EDWARD C. McFETRIDGE, of Dodge.
For Attorney General—LEANDER F. FRISBY, of Washington.
For State Supt. of Public Instruction—ROBERT GRAHAM, of Winnebago.
For Railway Commissioner—NILS. P. HAUGEN, of Pierce.
For Commissioner of Insurance—PHIL. L. SPOONER, of Dane.
County Superintendents.

First District—JOHN JONES, of Union.
Second District—WILLIAM JONES, of Clinton.
Third District—JOHN CONLEY, of Clinton.

It is said that the seats for Patti's concert, will range from $5, to $10. The $20 business would have been not only an outrage, but disastrous to the management.

If this Republican party remains in power much longer in Wisconsin the State will be a lake. Now there—Madison Democrat.

And if it should fall into the hands of the Democrats it would soon be swamped. Now there.

President Arthur will occupy the White House next week. It is said he has selected as his private bed room one in the Northwestern portion of the building. He probably made this selection because it would hide from his view that nation disgrace—the Washington "monument."

It was thought that when Hannibal Hamlin quit the Senate he would retire from public life at least one year. But he goes to Spain as Minister and will probably stay four years. There has not been a year during the past forty, that he has been out of office. Every office he ever filled, he filled well.

It is said that Mr. Pratt has some hope of being elected. But why he should be elected is not known, not even to the Democrats. There has not been a Democratic paper nor a Democratic orator, that has yet advanced one single reason why Mr. Pratt, or any man on the Democratic State ticket, should be elected. They don't know any reason, and therefore have kept silent.

There is a wide difference in the value placed upon human life by courts and corporations. The other day a Philadelphia court gave a father $1,000 for the loss of a son who got drowned in a well, the well belonging to other parties and was not properly guarded. In the Ashland railway accident four years ago next month, for the loss of a husband and a daughter, the wife and mother received $900. The highest sum paid for a single life lost in railway accidents has been $18,000.

The Kuhl-Williams case is assuming a strange and interesting phase. The alleged Williams, it is said, has been spirited away to the Dunn county jail, and that the evidence goes to show that he is one of the Coleman murderers. In the face of all this comes a dispatch from St. Louis which says that two men answering the description of Lon and Ed Williams, the murderers, have been arrested in that city. Putting this and that together, the Williams case is certainly an extraordinary one.

There will be fewer Republicans vote the Prohibition ticket than many suppose. So far as heard from, in localities where Republican speeches are being made, there are no considerable numbers of Republicans going to desert their party. This thing is true, that there is as much importance now as ever there was of holding fast to the Republican faith and giving the most earnest support to the party. Republicans generally understand this, and those of cool judgment, of firm faith in Republican principles, and who thoroughly understand the evil consequences of allowing the Democratic party to ride into power, will not perform a single act which will lessen the strength of the Republican party. There will be a considerable number of Prohibition votes cast, but they will be cast by those whose political faith is becoming unsettled, and who do not seem to care whether Republican principles are voted up or voted down.

AN IMPORTANT CORRECTION.

TO THE EDITOR.
Dear Sir: My attention has just been called to an article in the Evansville Review headed "W. H. Doolittle endorsed by the Prohibition party." I find my name appended to said endorsement. Now permit me to say, that whoever used my name in that connection, did it without my knowledge or consent. I should not have consented to a matter of this kind, for various reasons. In the first place, I am not a resident of the First Assembly district, and believing the voters of each Assembly district are capable of managing their own political affairs, I should, in no instance, presume to act for the voters of the district. In the next place, while I am in favor of the passage by our Legislature of a constitutional amendment, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, I have not yet been persuaded that in order to obtain that object, we must withdraw our support from the Republican party, when it nominates good men, who are willing to be governed by the wishes of their constituents upon this question. I am not personally acquainted with either Mr. Doolittle or Mr. Huntly, the opposing candidates. I presume they are both reputable men. But I believe that Mr. Huntly the Republican nominee, would carry out the wishes of his constituents upon this question I would vote for him.

This is a manly letter from Mr. Sutherland. It is to be regretted that any one should take the liberty of using his name in a manner which would place him in a false position by misrepresenting him. Mr. Sutherland is an unflinching Republican, and has done a laborious amount of work for the Republican party. There has not been a year since the party came into existence that he has not done excellent service for it. During that time he has been an earnest worker in the cause of temperance, and still is a most ardent friend of all practical movements to promote the temperance work. He is too thoroughly Republican to desert the party at this time, and more especially when direct support to the Prohibition ticket is indirect support to the Democratic party.

A LETTER FROM DR. COLMAN.
The Rev. Henry Colman, of Milwaukee, thinks he has been misrepresented by the Gazette in regard to his proposed temperance lecture in Janesville, and sends us the following letter:

To the Editor.
I see by The Republican and News of this city that somebody has made a big mistake. I have sent no notice of a meeting of any kind to Janesville. When requested to go there, I consented on condition that the meeting should not be held on Thursday evening, the night of prayer-meeting in that city. I was informed on Monday that the meeting was advertised for Wednesday, and had nothing to do with sending the notices, whatever, and made no suggestions except as above. No honest man knowing the facts will accuse me of using my office in the church to forward the cause I advocate, and I have yet to learn that position in the state of church ought to shut its mouth on great moral questions. With all Republican papers it is perfectly right for Dr. Chapin the president of a college to oppose the great Prohibition movement, which every one honors, is destined to be the great question before the American people, but when a humble, obscure, officer in the church lifts up his voice against the greatest vice in the land, then what a crime! I know full well that "not many wise, nor many noble" are willing to do the pioneer work in inaugurating a great moral reform. The history of the early anti-slavery reform is re-narrated almost act for act, word for word. The same class of men that were stigmatized as "political preachers" then who largely helped so build up the dominant party, are now spit upon by the men who are enjoying the fruits of their rough pioneer toil.

Truly yours,
HENRY COLMAN.
Milwaukee, November 2, '81.
We understand the telegram announcing that Dr. Colman would lecture on temperance in Janesville, on Thursday evening, was received from Mr. Giles, of Madison, chairman of the Prohibition State committee, but that does not relieve the doctor of any responsibility in the matter, and therefore the criticisms of the Gazette, to which he objects, were not out of place. Although the telegram was from Mr. Giles, Dr. Colman had tendered his services to the Prohibition State committee, and authorized it to make such appointments for him as would best subserve the cause of prohibition. Speaking, therefore, for the reverend gentleman, Mr. Giles, telegraphed the pastors of the Methodist churches in Janesville, that Dr. Colman would lecture on temperance, and they were expected to open one or the other of the churches for him. The movement being a political one, the pastors did not feel like giving the use of the churches for that purpose, and in this they appear to be endorsed by a large majority of the members of both churches.

If the doctor desired to keep free from any suspicion of using the church organization or his sacred office, for political purposes, the question of holding meetings should have been left with the county committee. But as it now stands, it does seem that there was an understanding between the chairman of the State committee and Dr. Colman, that the former was authorized to ask for churches in which the latter could speak. Had the county committee the matter in hand, the same as other political organizations, there would have been no suspicion that the doctor was using his office and the church to advance the interest of a political party.

PROHIBITIONISTS.

WATERTOWN, Nov. 2.—Everything goes to show that the Prohibitionists of Wisconsin will be sadly disappointed with the size of their vote at the State election next week. Some of them have been making very wild figures, claiming thirty thousand in the State. The fact is, unless all signs fail, the Prohibition vote is not likely to reach eight thousand, and it would not surprise many close figures on politics in the State to see it fall below five thousand. The assertion is made that the Prohibition vote in this (Jefferson) county would be eight hundred, while it is almost certain not to reach over 250. This is the former home of Theo. D. Kanouse, Prohibition candidate for Governor, and out of 1,200 votes likely to be cast, his most sanguine friends do not concede him over thirty votes. The fact is, the Prohibition Republicans have not conceded, that they will not contribute toward the success of the Democratic State ticket by voting for the Prohibition candidates, but will take to their bosoms the Republican State ticket. The lowest estimates place Rusk's majority in the State at fifteen thousand.

WHO IS HE?

Kuhl, Alias Williams, Taken to Dunn County, Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 2.—There was a startling rumor to-day that Lon Williams has been spirited away to Dunn county jail. The absence of Sheriff Knight, the District Attorney of St. Croix county, the Coleman brothers, and last, but not least, Sheriff Rugee and District Attorney Williams, which, together with the fact that no one could see Kuhl, not even his attorneys, gave color to the story. It was learned at the jail that the Milwaukee officers and several officers from the interior had gone to Chicago to determine a certain detail of the case, and that Sheriff Rugee had ordered that no one should be permitted to see Kuhl. It was learned, however, later, that the man had been taken by the officers to Dunn county on the 3 o'clock train this morning. Several relatives of the suspected—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schertz and Miss Julia Kuhl, the latter a sister of the prisoner—arrived here to-day, besides the newsmen already named. The Sheriff of Wood County, Illinois, a man who knew Kuhl when he was a child, and who also knows Lon Williams, will be here, and the farmers near Bloomington, Ill., who had employed Kuhl in July last, a farmer named Hildebrand, for whom Kuhl had worked in May and June, already named. The Sheriff of Wood County, Illinois, a man who knew Kuhl when he was a child, and who also knows Lon Williams, will be here, and the farmers near Bloomington, Ill., who had employed Kuhl in July last, a farmer named Hildebrand, for whom Kuhl had worked in May and June, already named. The Sheriff of Wood County, Illinois, a man who knew Kuhl when he was a child, and who also knows Lon Williams, will be here, and the farmers near Bloomington, Ill., who had employed Kuhl in July last, a farmer named Hildebrand, for whom Kuhl had worked in May and June, already named.

St. Paul, Nov. 2.—A Menominee special to the Pioneer-Press says: "The Milwaukee Lon Williams, in charge of Under-Sheriffs Knight and Coleman and several deputies from Milwaukee, arrived here on the Central train this evening, and was quietly taken to jail. No demonstration was made. In fact, but few knew of the arrival until he was safely placed behind the bars. A strong guard is quartered at the jail, and every precaution taken to safely protect the prisoner. Our people are in great doubt as to his identity, and are inclined to give him a fair show."
St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Two men, supposed to be Lon and Ed Williams, the desperadoes who murdered the Coleman brothers in Wisconsin, were captured here to-day by the police. The prisoners answer to the description sent out by the Wisconsin authorities, but as yet there is no positive evidence that they are the parties wanted in that State.

FAST MAILS.

Less than Twenty-six Hours from New York to Chicago.

New York, Nov. 2.—Mails out of New York for the west will be greatly facilitated by important arrangements completed by Postmaster-General James, which were reported to Postmaster Pearson, of this city, to-day. A postal-car will continue to be attached to the train on the New York Central railroad leaving the Grand Central depot in New York at 4:35 a. m., and arriving at Buffalo at 7:40 p. m. The fast Chicago express which the Central is to put on next Monday, leaving New York at 8 a. m., will overtake the other at Buffalo and take the cut-off that cut at Chicago, where it will arrive at 9:05 a. m. the following day. This will make a practical saving between New York and Chicago and points west of one day. The passage will be so greatly reduced in time as to render the service equal to the restoration of the fast mail which was established in 1870 and remained in operation ten months. Less than twenty-six hours will be occupied in the run from New York to Chicago.

WISCONSIN MILLERS.

MILWAUKEE, November 2.—The Wisconsin Millers' Association held an important meeting to-day, and considered business of importance to their interest as well as the interests of the general public. Edwin Sanderson, president of the association, stated that several matters of moment would be placed before the meeting by Secretary Scamans. The latter gentleman stated the fact that in the markets of New York and Boston Minnesota flour of the best brands had been inspected as unsound, though when shipped the flour seemingly was up to the high standard the millers were striving to maintain. The deterioration of the flour was doubtless due to the dampness of the wheat this season consequent upon the heavy and continuous rains throughout the Northwest, and particularly in Minnesota. This damp and damaged wheat has been inspected into elevators when it should have been kept out of the elevators, which should be dry and reliable. Mr. Sanderson spoke of a sample of No. 2 which he had just seen on 'change as fair in appearance, but which was bloated from dampness. The sellers of the lot had asked $1.25 and accepted $1.25. This kind of wheat would doubtless prove a cheap thing to buy, but it would not do it if it remained in store until next season.

THE "CRANK" CROP.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—There was a middle aged man roaming about the capital this morning, who claimed that he had been elected Vice President of the United States. He said that at the time he was elected he was too "sick," and unable to assume the duties of the office, and that David Davis had usurped the place. He was well now, and had come to Washington to assume the duties of the office. He said he lived in New York, and that his name was Thomas Jefferson, and that he was the author of the Declaration of Independence. He thought it was a great outrage on the part of Judge Davis to treat him as he had, and as soon as the Senate met he was going to take the chair and address the Senate on the subject. When informed that the Senate had adjourned, and would not meet again before December, he left, saying he would go home and return again. He did not belong to either of the so-called great political parties, but was an Old Lane Whig with strong Know-nothing proclivities, and was of the opinion that the members of the Republican and Democratic parties were not put out of the way they would bring on another war. He added that he was a minister, and intended, when he assumed the duties of Vice President, to have a better state of morals around the Senate chamber. He was opposed to the use of whisky, and would endeavor to impress on the Senators the necessity of being temperate in all things.

A NOVEL SUIT.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 2.—A novel suit was filed in the circuit court by John L. Zince against Miss Louisa Frenzel. The complaint states that the plaintiff and Miss Frenzel, a wealthy young lady of this city, were engaged to be married about two years ago; that the engagement was kept up until recently, when Miss Frenzel broke it, and that she now refuses to marry plaintiff, although he is still ready and willing to marry her. The complaint then goes on to state that plaintiff has in his possession many tokens of love and respect from defendant, such as letters and mugs, and that by the failure of defendant to make good her promise of marriage he is damaged to the amount of $10,000. The plaintiff formerly lived in this city, but is a resident of Chicago, and came here to have the suit brought.

Cuticura

Scrofulous, Itching and Scaly Humors of the Skin, Scalp and Blood Cured.

MIRACULOUS CURE.

I will now state that I made a miraculous cure of one of the worst cases of skin disease known. The patient is a man forty years old; had suffered fifteen years. His eyes, scalp and nearly his whole body presented a frightful appearance. Had had the attention of twelve different physicians, who prescribed the best remedies known to the profession, such as iodine, potassium, arsenic, corrosive sublimate, sarsaparilla, etc.—had paid $500 for medical treatment with but little relief. I prevailed upon him to use the CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally. He did so, and was completely cured. The skin on his head, face, and many other parts of his body, which presented a most loathsome appearance, is now as soft and smooth as an infant's, with no trace of the disease left behind. He has now been cured twelve months. Reported by F. H. BROWN, Esq., Hartford, S. C.

SCROFULA SORE.

Rev. Dr. —, in detailing his experience with the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, said that through Divine Providence one of his parishioners was cured of a scrofulous sore, which was slowly draining away his life, by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally. The poison that had fed the disease was completely driven out.

ECZEMA.

Since a eruption broke out on my leg and both feet, which turned out to be Eczema, and caused me great pain and annoyance, I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, which entirely cured me, so that my skin is as smooth and natural as ever.

CUTICURA.

The CUTICURA RESOLVENT, for the cure of Skin, Scalp and Blood Diseases, consists in the internal use of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, and the external use of CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, the Great Skin Cures. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50c.; large boxes, $1.00. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25c. CUTICURA SHAVING SOAP, the same. Depot, WEEKS & POTTER, Boston, Mass.

presentation of the old city, and as Mr. Woodbury speaks from personal observation, he speaks intelligently.

A GRAND CONCERT.

There was a large audience gathered in the Congregational church last evening, to enjoy the musical treat which expectation has caused all to believe would prove the greatest musical event, which ever occurred in this city. The expectation was fairly met. The interest centered chiefly in the appearance of Clara Louise Kellogg, the favorite American prima donna. Aside from the wonders and charms of her voice she is looked upon with pride as being a truly American artist, one who has won her way to the highest rank of lyric vocalists, without the aid of European schooling or methods, and one whose manners and sympathies are truly those of her own country. She has always been looked upon too, as a noble type of true womanhood, and these characteristics, added to her powers of song, cause the people to welcome her appearance with unusual enthusiasm.

It was thus here, as elsewhere. When in the course of the programme, she appeared before the audience, a most hearty welcome was expressed. Her presence was charming, her manners so easy and graceful, as to at once put her hearers in the best frame of mind for heartily enjoying the rich outburst of song. Her first number was the "Mignon" polonaise. In this the purity and brilliancy of her tones could not but delight all. Those who were not conversant with music were charmed, while those who delight in it, had their enthusiasm aroused to its utmost. Those who have heard Miss Kellogg in years past watched sharply for some indication that her voice was not of its former strength and richness, and when they found it was the same, with fresh charms rather than faded ones, they were the happiest and most enthusiastic of all. Her other printed number was Tosti's "Good Bye," which was more heartily enjoyed by the majority of the audience than the former. Her encore responses were "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Comin' Thro' the Rye," selections which are easily within the reach of the popular appreciation, and which, when rendered by her, are given beauties which charm and thrill any audience, and call forth the most generous applause.

It was a disappointment to many not to hear Miss Alta Pense, who has won an enviable reputation as a contralto, within a very short time. Ill health has forced her to cancel her engagement, and Miss Clara Poole, of Boston, appeared instead. The disappointment was fully atoned for. Miss Poole does not make a very favorable impression on her first appearance, but as her powers of voice began to show themselves, her stage presence was forgotten. She has a rich full voice, and some of her tones are really remarkable. She gave the "Flower Song" from Faust, and Piniotti's "Tis I," and as an encore response gave most charmingly "I wouldn't, would you."

Brignoli, the renowned tenor, was heartily received, and his renditions generously applauded, rather on account of his being the "veteran" than on account of any wonderful showing of his voice last night. It is wonderful how he retains his voice and vim so fully, after so many years of service in entertaining the public, and while not at his best last evening, yet he showed such powers of song, as to merit the approval indicated by the applause received.

Signor Tagliapietra, the baritone, did excellent work. He has in some respects a wonderful voice. He has great strength and yet in the heavier work, he does not please as in the more delicate and lighter. He won his full share of favoritism with the audience, and won it fairly and justly.

Herr Timothe Adamowski, the violinist, is a young artist, who handles the instrument with wonderful skill, and gives great promise. He has a delicacy of touch that at times borders upon the powers shown by Remenyi, though he is not to be compared with him. He gave some pleasing solos last evening, that of his own composition, a polonaise, being the most taking with his hearers.

Herr S. Liebling as a pianist exceeded the expectations of all. He has a delicate, clean touch, and is a brilliant, promising artist. He takes an unpleasant posture at the keyboard, but this is a minor defect, which is amply atoned for by the real music which he makes the instrument give forth.

Mr. Adolph Glose, the accompanist, proved admirably suited for that position, and fulfilled his part well.

The closing number of the concert was a quartet from Martha, in which Miss Kellogg, Miss Poole, Brignoli and Tagliapietra joined their voices in a brilliant showing of vocal power, which awakened the wildest enthusiasm, and round upon round of applause followed, and all seemed loth to leave their seats, many still remaining in the vain hope of securing a response to the hearty encore.

The stage arrangements were horribly out of keeping with so grand an event. The church is not conveniently arranged for such purposes, and the alleged curtain was much of a farce, necessitating some awkwardness, which was annoying. Stage effect has little to do with a concert, and yet it has something to do, and should be somewhat in keeping.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY FLEETCHER & SYMONSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 33 degrees above zero; at 1 o'clock a. m. to-day at 33 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 36 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 38 degrees above. Cloudy.

The indications to-day are, light rain or snow, followed by clearing weather cold north to west winds, and rising thermometer.

"MUTUAL" BLISS.

The many friends of the old Mutual base ball club, and of Frank E. Bliss, its former short-stop, will learn with delight that he is about to make the capture of a prize complete. The following letter is self-explanatory, and will be read with interest:

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31, 1881.

To Clem Jackson and all Members of Mutuals of 1877:

My MUTUAL FRIENDS—You will observe by the inclosed contents that I am well on my way to a Benediction's fate, and, therefore, I take this opportunity to affirm that while I may be proving traitor to mankind in general, and to single blessedness in particular, still I can console myself with the reflection; that in one thing I was true, have been true, and am still true; and that is my attachment to the Mutual base ball club of '77. That first game in Milwaukee is frequently gone through with, in my mind, and I again see the crowd of grangers from the interior, welcoming us back, at Milton Junction, that night, from our victory over the exterior fellows; and it is the spirit of these events, that lives and burns within me, that prompts this letter, and makes me glad to notice the success of anyone that belonged to that Mutual band; and I should be glad to welcome any stray Janesvillian that may be wandering this way, and take him (or her) out and show them what a "fine pick up" their old short-stop has succeeded in making.

With best wishes to all, I am, Mutually Yours,

FRANK E. BLISS.

249 Superior St., Cleveland, Ohio. To Messrs. Mosley, Colvin, Potter, Valentine, Jackson, Smith, Doe, Morse, Conrad, Morrissey, and all other Mutuals.

Accompanying the letter is a neat invitation addressed to "The Mutuals of '77," bearing the following words: "Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fish request your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Louise, to Frank Eugene Bliss, Wednesday evening, Nov. 9, 1881, at 7 o'clock, 1757 Pearl street, Brooklyn, O."

An unadvised and positive cure for Catarrh—"Dr. Sykes Sore Cure."

PERSONAL.

—Dr. Gish, who lately had two ribs broken, is able to be out again, though by no means restored to usual vigor.

—Miss Mary Norton, of Whitewater, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. Morgan, and attended the Kellogg concert last evening.

—Will F. Tompkins, of Ellsworth, Kas., son of Judge William Tompkins, one of Janesville's early settlers, has sent two cards to some of his friends, informing them that Martha Caroline Tompkins weighs seven pounds.

—Mrs. Louise Peterson is in quite poor health, caused largely by the care and sorrow which has come to her by the illness and death of her son. Her friends hope that she will speedily regain accustomed strength and health.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tallman have tendered to Rev. T. P. Sawin and family a reception to-morrow evening at their spacious and elegant home, the hours to be from 7 o'clock until 10 o'clock. As Mr. Sawin and family are to leave next week, this will be the last opportunity that many will have of bidding them farewell, and all friends are cordially invited to be present at Mr. Tallman's residence at that time.

—Henri de Travis, better known as Joel Henry Wells, is in the city. He has gained considerable notoriety in Chicago by having been adjudged insane, and afterwards escaping from the asylum at Elgin, and then making a test case of his trouble in the matter. The evidence and law involved have been the subject of much discussion, and he proposes carrying his case up to the highest court, in order to get a full and final decision. He formerly lived at Allen's Grove, and has many friends in this part of the country, who have watched his case with peculiar interest.

—Rev. and Mrs. D. J. Holmes are to celebrate their crystal wedding at their home, opposite the First Methodist church, of which he is pastor, next Monday evening. The invitation is a general one to his church and congregation, and all other friends here to join in the occasion, which is to be of the nature of a house warming, and it will probably prove a house-warming as well. The reverend gentleman in giving the invitation to his congregation expressly stipulated that no presents would be accepted from anyone who had not been acquainted with himself and wife for upwards of one year—a neat way of saying that the object of the gathering was not to make or give presents, as he has only been here a month or so, and old acquaintances and friends are therefore decidedly limited, though new ones are numerous.

THEIR ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. Henry Faville and wife, formerly of Court street church, celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary last Tuesday in a manner unexpected to them. Their Evansville parishioners surprised them by preparing a feast of good things at the church, and invited the worthy couple in. Rev. Mr. Robinson, who was in years past the pastor of Mrs. Conant, Mrs. Faville's mother, gave a brief address in which he touchingly spoke of his long acquaintance with their family, and the interest with which he had watched their changes, closing by tying another knot in the matrimonial bond. After this ceremony a large and elegant easy chair was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Faville, with appropriate remarks to which Mr. Faville responded in a happy manner. The occasion was a joyous one, and was a pleasant expression of the high regard in which the pastor and family are held by the church and citizens at Evansville.

Dr. V. C. Price's reputation and success becoming so extended, the number of years that he has enjoyed it, his devotion to the parents and studies of his profession, is one of the strongest and most competent testimonials that can be given him.

Dr. Price's next day for receiving patients at Janesville, Myers house, on Saturday, the 5th of November.

THE PLACE FOR BARGAINS.

George Stockton, having decided to close out his entire stock of dry goods, with the intention of going out of the business, is offering all goods in his line at figures which are astonishingly low. A better opportunity to secure big bargains was never presented, and the public should bear the fact in mind. The sale is to be kept up until the entire stock is disposed of, and is positive and bona fide. It is a good chance to buy dry goods.
